Market Commentary
Oil prices fell today on continued demand concerns as the overall economic recovery in Europe is beginning to dwindle. "Right now, the concerns about demand and the uptick in COVID cases seems to be the big reason why we're weaker," said Phil Flynn, senior analyst at Price Futures Group. We did get good news in the US that housing starts were up over 22% in July as the S&P also notched a new record high. New data from Canadian regulators shows Canadian crude-by-rail exports fell to 42,820 bpd in June, down from 58,048 bpd in May. The US rig count actually increased this week for the first time in months with 11 oil rigs being brought online. WTI traded down $.48 or -1.12% to close at $42.34. Brent traded down $.55 or -1.23% to close at $44.35.
