Oil prices climbed to fresh highs today as EIA showed a drop in crude output. Production dropped more than 1MM/bpd and analysts are wondering how long it will take to get some of this production back on, if ever. "If you're getting that kind of drop in one week of EIA production, you're likely to get more after that," said Phil Flynn, senior analyst at Price Futures in Chicago. "There is some concern that this will be a long-term permanent production drop." Crude oil inventories increased by 1.3MM/bbls. Gasoline inventories were pretty much unchanged for the week but distillate inventories decreased by 5MM/bbls. WTI traded up $1.55 or 2.51% to close at $63.22. Brent traded up $1.67 or 2.56% to close at $67.05.
