Market Commentary
Oil prices rallied today, buoyed by a strong crude inventory draw which is boosting optimism about rising demand. U.S. crude inventories fell by 5.9 MM/bbls last week, exceeding analysts' forecasts for a 2.9 MM/bbl drop. East Coast crude stocks also hit a record low. Gasoline supplied rose to 8.9MM/bpd, the highest since last August as the summer driving season starts to pick up. Gasoline inventories edged higher by 309K/bbls, less than expectations for a 786K/bbl rise. Distillate stocks fell by 2.1MM/bbls, versus expectations for a 971K/bbl rise. Earlier in the session oil prices rose on a report from the International Energy Agency that predicted global oil demand and supply were set to rebalance in the second half of the year. "That IEA report is one of the best ones we've seen them publish in a while in terms of being optimistic about the continued rebound in demand," said John Kilduff, partner at Again Capital in New York. WTI traded up $2.97 or 4.94% to close at $63.15. Brent traded up $2.91 or 4.57% to close at $66.58.
