Market Commentary ower today in another volati

Oil prices were slightly lower today in another volatile session. Saudi Arabia is raising its July crude prices to Asia after announcing OPEC+ would slightly increase production hikes for the next two months. The increased target was spread across all OPEC+ members, many of which have little room to increase output and which include Russia, which faces Western sanctions. "Crude inputs into the U.S. refineries have been reduced by about 6% from four years ago at this time with this reduction associating with a need for less crude cover while contributing to a severe tightness in the gasoline and diesel markets," said Jim Ritterbusch, president of Ritterbusch and Associates in Galena, Illinois. WTI traded down $.37 or -.31% to close at $118.50. Brent traded up $.28 or .23% to close at $120.
