Market Commentary

Oil prices closed lower today after news of OPEC+ raising their production for September was released as well as news of potential Iranian crude being discussed later this week. The group raised production 100,000 bpd and said there was very limited capacity to raise further. Saudi Arabia may also be reluctant to increase production at the expense of Russia, current under Western sanctions. The premium for front-month Brent futures over barrels loading in six months' time is at a three-month low, indicating waning concern about tight supply. The same premium for WTI futures neared a four-month low. US crude inventories unexpectedly rose last week, by 4.5MM/bbls, compared to a forecasted draw of 600,000/bbls. Gasoline stocks were also unexpectedly higher. "The crude oil number is well above expectations. Gasoline is a disappointment. You should never see a build in gasoline during summer. It's a very bearish report," said Bob Yawger, director of energy futures at Mizuho. WTI traded down $3.76 or -3.98% to close at $90.66. Brent traded down $3.76 or -3.74% to close at $96.78.
